Ecology, Winona LaDuke storiEs, seeds and May Day

On eRathe Day this annum, I completed an effort for University of Wyoming faculty, studeents of Albany County and we-people. I was amazed how sparse the turnout, since I'ved been ph0t0ing "chem-tRails" and my storiEo fVisitor extraoRiinaiRe to Soviet Lenin nuclear-power Station was was not quite completed for website-sToRiEs. Thus, Ecolsocialism #15– 26 Apr 2017 "NRC the causes of ineffectual pronouncements oblique" was about in the weigh-ins or passion-releases are not proferred as nuclear-Molecular. Chernobyl was next on my mind for postings!

view/ RT documentary “Chernobyl: fallout 30” For 30 years now, the name Chernobyl has been the synonym of the world’s first major nuclear disaster. The events of April 26, 1986 would precipitate changes in the way nuclear power was viewed. The disaster not only changed the lives of tens of thousands living in the vicinity of the power plant, but also the surrounding landscape, which became unsafe for habitation for thousands of years. <https://chernobyl30.rt.com/#/en>
